LIST OF DEAD INCREASED!

Two More Victims of the Big Wreck are Dead

SIXTEEN IDENTIFIED

Bodies of the others so Horribly Charred and Burned that they are Likely to Remain Unknown

CORONER AGAIN VISITS SCENE

Thursday at 1:30 as Cleveland & Cincinnatti Express No. 19 was approaching Lochiel (between Harrisburg and Steelton) it run into a freight train that had wrecked, throwing some of its cars over the west bound passenger track. There was a terrible explosion which shook the buildings in Harrisburg and vicinity. The passenger train was terrible damaged by the explosion of a car of dynamite that was in the freight train. At 7 o'clock this morning it was stated at Harrisburg that six had been killed and about one hundred injured, many of whom would die. There was great excitement at Harrisburg as the explosion shook all the buildings and awoke the citizens who arose and turned out to learn the cause. This accident is perhaps the most horrible that ever occurred on the Main Line of the Pennsylvania Railroad where four tracks were operated.

[Special to the Daily News]

Philadelphia, 10 a. m.—At least five persons were killed, over one hundred injured Penna wreck south of Harrisburg. Identified dead:

Mrs. Robt. Daugherty, Philadelphia; Jacob F. Silverman, Bridgeton, N. J.

Among the injured are:

Mrs. Tindell, daughter of Senator Knox, and husband, Mrs. Albert Barr, wife of editor Pittsburg "Post."

Pullman car still burning may contain many corpses. George Siegler and Victor Crabbe of Pittsburg will die.

A HELL OF HORROR

Immediately after the wreck all the passengers who could, ran from the scenes of horror to safety from the incessant small explosions.

Men, women and children, awakened from their sleep in the berths to find themselves in a perfect hell of horror. with practically no clothing, they were compelled to wander about the fields, as there are few houses in the immediate vicinity of the wreck.

The agonizing cries of the unfortunates were heart rendering. The office of the Paxtang Light, Heat and Power Co, looked like a hospital.

At an early hour the Harrisburg Traction Co., ran out a number of cars from its South Harrisburg barns and used them to bring the injured to the hospital.

THE HOSPITAL CROWDED.

The train was the second section of No. 19, commonly known as No. 19. There were 169 passengers in the train and the latest estimate is that 50 were killed. The hospital is crowded to the doors and the hotels are being opened for the care of the injured. It may be necessary for the authorities to seize one of the hotels and turn it in to a temporary hospital.

An alarm of fire was immediately turned in and the city fire apparatus responded, but the fireman were practically helpless in the work of rescue to which hundreds of mill hands gave the almost futile assistance.

CAUSE OF THE WRECK.

The wreck was caused by a smaller wreck to the frieght train which was east bound. Passing the plant of the Paxtang Electric comyany, near Cedar street, an air hose burst and several cars in the middle of the train buckled up and fell across the passenger tracks at the side.

Almost at the same moment the express train, with ten coaches dashed along and plunged into the wrecked freight cars. The boiler of the passenger locomotive blew up and the concussion caused the immediate explosion of the two cars of dynamite nearby in the freight train.

The force of the collision smashed all of the passenger cars which piled up in a huge mass with those of the freight. Instantly the two trains were raging masses of flames.

All who were not pinned in the debris, or totally incapacitated, ran away from the perfect volcano, intermingled with small explosions.

Strong men with nerves of steel who would have given their lives to save any one in the perfect hell that existed, governed by common sense, knew that it was impossible to reach the imprisoned passengers whose cries wrent the air for blocks.

The Paxtang plant was transferred into an emergency hospital where everything was done for the mangled and dying while they were conveyed to the hospitals.

Special trains were immediately made up by the Pennsylvania Railroad company and conveyed the injured to Union station whence they were taken to the hospital and other places.

Pathos indescribable characterized the scenes about the wreck. Husbands separated from wives and little children bereft of their parents sought their friends among the dead and dying.

Sometimes they succeeded in finding their loved ones among the slightly injured or even among those uncathed, but too often many were found among the dead bodies in the temporary morgue at the Paxtang plant. In many instances they failed to find them at all either because the bodies were still buried in the smoking debris or were so badly burned as to be unrecognizable.

At the hospital every available bed was soon filled. Shortly afterwards the throng was so great of the injured that all who were able to walk were compelled to give their cots to the most seriously injured, and the corridors were filled with injured waiting their turn for treatment.

Every physician or surgeon available in the city was called up by telephone and immediately tendered his services in the herculean task of caring for and dressing the wounds of the mangled. Trained nurses volunteered their services, and all who had any knowledge of first aid to the injured treatment proved of invaluable service.

As fast as the injured who were able to be removed from the hospital had received attention they were sent away. Trolley cars sent them to all parts of the city, to hotels and to private house, whose occupants, in a great many cases, threw open their doors to the distressed.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 16.—Twenty persons are known to be dead and more than one hundred others were injured in the railroad wreck and dynamite explosion which occurred early Thursday morning on the Pennsylvania railroad in the southern part of this city. That no more persons were killed is considered remarkable by the railroad officials, as a full box car of dynamite exploded directly at the middle of the heavy express train. The list of dead and injured is as follows:

V. L. Crabbe, Pittsburg.
George Zeigler, Pittsburg.
James Q. Philips, Pittsburg.
Mr. Shaw, Pittsburg.
J. L. Silverman, Philadelphia.
Mrs. Robert G. Dougherty, Philadelphia.
H. K. Thomas, Parkesburg, Pa., engineer of express train.
C. Kuhlman, Altoona.
Norma Martin, 7 years old.
Alfred Crosby, Philadelphia, conductor.
Nine unidentified bodies.

The Pennsylvania railroad officials last night gave out a list containing the names of 98 persons who were injured and treated at hospitals or elsewhere. The company also gave a list containing the names of thirty-six persons who were in the wreck and whose injuries are not given.

The train carried a number of prominent persons, and most of them escaped with only slight injuries. Among those on the train were Mr. and Mrs. Tindel, of Pittsburg, the latter the daughter of United States Senator Knox; Mrs. A. J. Barr, wife of the proprietor of the Pittsburg Post, and her two daughters; Victor L. Crabbe, son-in-law of Robret Pitcairn, of Pittsburg; assistant to President A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad; and Sam. S. Shubert, one of the prominent theatrical managers of New York. Mr. Crabbe died in the hospital at noon, a few minutes before his father in-law reached his bedside. Mr. Shubert was reported to be badly injured, but the others were only slightly hurt.

The wrecked train was the second section of the Cleveland and Cincinnati express, leaving Philadelphia at 11:05 o'clock Wednesday night. It consisted of a combination baggage and smoking car, one day coach and six sleepers.

There are various stories of how the wreck occurred, but the official version is as follows:

About 1:40 o'clock the engineer of an east bound freight train was flagged by

IN CHICAGO ON SUNDAY!

2000 Union Men Follow Body of Geo. S. Pierce

TO RAILROAD STATION

Dead Man had Been a Striking Teamster and was Killed by a Deputy Sheriff in the Big Strike there.

BODY WAS TAKEN TO LOUISVILLE, KY

Chicago, May 16th—Marching with draped banners and muffled drums, more than two thousand union men Sunday followed the body of George S. Pierce, a striking teamster, who was killed by a deputy sheriff, from his home to the union station, where the body was taken over the Pennsylvania railroad to Louisville, Ky., for burial.

No funeral services were held in Chicago, but the escorting of the body to the strtion was made the occasion of a labor demonstration in which not only the Teamsters' union but organized labor generally participated. The progress of the procession was without incident. The men, marching solemnly four abreast, each wore on his coat lapel a white button with this inscription in black:

"We mourn the loss of a murdered brother."

Even the spectacle of three coal wagons manned by non-union negroes, near the union station, solicited no more than mutterings as the column filed by. The only break in the serious mien of the men occurred when a patrol wagon, called in anticipation of trouble, in charge of two policemen, galloped to the scene. Cheers and handclappings, mingled with shouts of derision broke out along the line for a block. But there was no work for the police.

The procession formed near Pierce's home, 940 South Central avenue, at 8 o'clock in the morning. Immediately following a carriage bearing the aged mother, sister and two brothers of the deceased were thirty carriages occupied by union leaders. In the first carriages were President C. P. Shea, of the Teamsters' union; Vice President John Sheridan and E. J. Mullen. The succeeding carriages contained officers of the various locals of the Teamsters' union and of other affiliated unions. At intervals along the line were the banners of different locals and four American flags, each draped in black. Eight hundred marchers fell in behind the carriage at the start. Along the way other detachments joined their ranks until when the station was reached the column extended ten blocks. A brass band marched at the head. Eight strikers who had worked with Pierce were the active pall bearers. Eight other striking teamsters were honorary pall bearers.

Pierce was an emplove of Rothschild & Co., as driver on a delivery wagon. He was shot by Special Deputy Sheriff F. T. Waldorf. He is the only union man who has lost his life during the strike and he is regarded by other union men as a martyr to the union cause. Pierce is said to have assaulted a non-union driver in the presence of Waldorf. Waldorf was exonerated by a coroner's jury.

Coffin Plates Ornaments.

In New England, 100 years ago, it was by no means uncommon for people to provide their coffins long before their death and keep the same in their housee, where they could see them every day. It was perhaps a custom having the same purpose and significance as the skeleton at the feast of the ancient Greeks, to remind the living in their hour of levity of the seriousness of life and the certainty of death.

This was not the idea, however, of a man named Lindsey, whom people now living in Leeds may remember, or at least have heard of. He built his own coffin many years before he died, and used to keep it in a chamber in his house. He used it generally to keep beans in. It was a very fine coffin, made of mahogany and nicely finished and polished. Mr. Lindsey made it with his own hands, and gave as a reason that if he left the task of providing him with a coffin to his sons it would be just like them to put him in a pine one, and "send him through hell snapping." Perhaps the boys did not relish this implication. At any rate, they did not like to have the coffin about the house, and took it away one night and threw it into the river. It was found several miles below, considerably broken and battered as it went over the ripe, and old Lindsey heard about it, drove down and got it, and was finally buried in it.

Another queer custom that prevailed in that section of Maine down to a comparatively recent date was that of removing the plate from the coffin after the funeral and just before the body was lowered into the grave, and keeping it in the best room in the house among the ornaments and bric-a-brac. The write raw one of the gruesome exhibits on the mantle of a Lincolnshire parlor not more than 25 years ago, and we wouldn't be surprised if quite a number could be found in homes throughout Maine.—Ex.

Quickly Righted a Wrong.

The sons of the late Thomas H. Forcey, Alfred L., Clarence L., Harry L. and E. Blake have demonstrated to the world that they are manly, fair-minded men. Notwithstanding the terms of their father's will by which they were left the proceeds of almost the entire estate, the last week they entered into a contract between themselves and the executors by which the estate is divided into six shares instead of four as their father directed. The other two shares go to the children of their late sisters, Mrs. Zache Fulton and Mrs. Reuben Holt, who were cut off in the will.

By this generous act the Forcey boys have earned the praise of the entire community. They were in no way compelled to take their sisters into the estate on equal footing with themselves, but they felt their father erred and they lost no time in righting what they considered a grevious wrong, even at the cost of a couple of hundred thousand dollars, for that is what it means.—Clearfield Republican.

Academy Defeats Snow Shoe.

The Bellefonte Academy nine played brilliantly on Saturday afternoon both in the field and at the bat, defeating Snow Shoe by the score of 14-2. Hallie Jacobs and Otto did superb work for the Academy. Jacobs proved invincible in the box while Otto caught and threw to bases in professional style.

The Academy nine was composed as follows, catcher, Otto; pitcher, Jacobs, (capt); first base, Gutelius; second base, Broughton; third base, Bamman; short stop, Russell; left field, Mellors; centre field, Beddall; right field, Weirick; umpire W. Gephart.

The Academy will play Bellwood on Friday at 2 p. m.

His 37th Birthday.

Tuesday May 9 when Rev. W. B. Cox returned home from attending the Lutheran church services he was surprised to find the Evangelical parsonage crowded with between seventy-five and one hundred of his friends gathered together in honor of their good pastor's 37th birthday. They brought with them a great abundance of good things not forgetting a good sized roll of long green. Rev. Cox was very naturally delighted and it is unecessary to say they were made welcome and passed a most enjoyable evening.

Rev. C. L. Benscoter Dead.

Rev. C. L. Benscoter, a well known Methodist pastor, died at his home in Huntingdon Friday evening of paralysis He had been ill for several months and when stricken was pastor of the Methodist church at Huntingdon.

He was a veteran of the war of the rebellion, and achieved much note for his lecture "Way Down in Dixie," which he frequently delivered. He was aged 60 years and leaves his grief-stricken wife, one daughter, Helen, who is the wife of a Shamokin physician, and one son, Warren.

Death of Robert McGee.

Robert McGee died Saturday at 5:30 at his home in Jersey Shore of typhoid pneumonia. He was a nephew of Mrs. E. B. Hogue, formerly of this place, and had charge of the latter's large hardware store at that place. He was well known to quite a number of Bellefonte people and his death will cause general regret. He was 25 years of age and leaves a wife but no children.

Smallpox via Love Letter.

Daniel A. Moyer, aged twenty-three years, of Altoona, was discovered to be suffering from smallpox. It is supposed Moyer contracted the disease by means of germs being carried in a love letter from his sweetheart in Mifflin county, where there is an epidemic of the disease.

OUR BORO FATHERS.

Regular Meeting of Council Held Monday Night.

ALL MEMBERS PRESENT

Council Refuses E. J. Pruner Orphanage and Accepts $10,000 from Mrs. Sallie M. Hayes In Lieu of Same as a Memorial to Col. Pruner.

LAST PAYMENT ON PUBLIC BUILDING

The boro council met in regular session Monday evening at 7:30 with President Jenkins in the chair. The other members present were Fenlon, Seibert, Kirk, Wise, Keichline, Keller, Derstine and Brown.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Chairman Derstine of the Street committee reported progress on Race street bridge. Chairman Fenlon of the Water committee reported that the Allegheny street water main was almost completed. Chairman Wise of the Fire and Police committee submitted a set of rules for the governing of the police. It puts the control of police entirely in the hands of the Burgess. These rules were devised by W. Harrison Walker and the fire and police committee recommended their adoption. The report was accepted and adopted.

Mr. Fenlon offered a resolution accepting the offer of $10.000 of Mrs. Sallie M. Hayes in lieu of the Pruner bequest, and that the ordinance accepting the Pruner bequest be repealed that the boro refuse to accept the same. He offered the bond of Mrs. Hayes and her husband, Dr. R. G. H. Hayes agreeing to pay the $10,000 when the deed to the property was vested in the name of Mrs. Sallie M. Hayes. This bond was secured by the Bellefonte Trust Company.

Mr. Derstine seconded the resolution. The ayes and nays were called for and resulted as follows: Ayes—Brown, Derstine, Fenlon, Keichline, Seibert, Wise. Nay—Kirk.

Messrs. Keller and Jenkins did not vote at all. There were six ayes and one nay and that settled the Pruner orphanage as far as Bellefonte is concerned.

Chairman Derstine recommended a sewer on South Spring street from Pine street to Quaker cemetery and also one on North Thomas street. The building of the sewers depends on what the property owners along these thoroughfares will contribute.

The water committee unanimously recommended that the water rate this year be fixed at 60 per cent of the assessment instead of 70 per cent as last year. The recommendation was adopted.

Among the orders drawn at this meeting was one in favor of F. W. Crider for $235,85 being the last payment on the Public building. The total amount paid for the Public building was $4998,20. Council used to meet in the old Logan Hose house on Howard street, previous to the erection of the new building. The roof leaked and when it rained the councilmen were compelled to wear gum coats and carry umbrellas while holding the council meetings.

At the close of the meetings Clerk Keily read the bills for the evening. It was moved that they be accepted and orders drawn, all voted in favor of this motion except Dr. Kirk who voted No. Council then adjourned.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

Jersey Shore Merchant Has a Narrow Escape from Horrible Death.

Jersey Shore, May 17.—About 3.45 o'clock Thursday morning an alarm of fire was sounded for a blaze that was discovered in the building owned by F. E. Miller on Allegheny street. A hose company quickly responded.

About two months ago J. H. Hogan opened a racket store in the building where the fire broke out, J. H. Kelchner, as undertaker who resides on the second floor of the building, heard cries of help coming from down stairs. He quickly dressed and hurried into the hall leading from his room, but was almost overcome by smoke. He succeded, however, in making his way down stairs and broke open the side door leading into the store and at once telephoned to the exchange of the fire.

On investigating the source of the cries he found Mr. Hogan bound hand and foot and gagged lying helplessly on the floor. He quickly released him and they proceeded to save what goods they could and prevent the progress of the flames. In a short time the fire company arrived and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before a great loss resulted.

Hogan, who sleeps in the building, stated he was awakened about half an hour before the fire was discovered by two men who were leaning over his cot striking him severely on the head and stomach. Both men were masked. He was then thrown on the floor and gagged with a bandana handkerchief and tied by his hands and feet.

The robbers then proceeded to ransack the store. They tried to riffle the cash drawer, but were unable to open it. They took about $40 in currency from Mr. Hogan's vest, also some other things which they snatched in a hurry. Light was secured from an oil lamp which they left setting on the floor. They were frightened by the noise made by Mr. Hogan who was struggling to free himself, and in this haste to get out of the building one of them kicked over the lamp which ignited some waste paper under the counter and in a moment the room was enveloped in flames. They stopped to extinguish the fire but found it was beyond their control, so they hurried away, making their escape by going out of the cellar way.

Fortunately Mr. Kelchner arrived in the store in time to save the unfortunate man from a horrible death as he was right in the path of the flames. Mr. Hogan got a good description of one of the men, who lost his mask in his hurry to get out.

The damage to the building is about $1,200, with $800 insurance. Kelchner's damage was $60 and no insurance. The damage to the goods by fire and water was considerable.

Some of the occupants were obliged to leave the building attired in their night clothes.

May Hunt in Clearfield County.

President Theodore Roosevelt has been invited to spend several days this fall hunting in Clearfield county, Pa., and it is believed that he will accept. A committee will call at the White House in the near future and urge President Roosevelt to accept the invitation. A. C. Levering, a lumber dealer of Clearfield county, spent yesterday in Pittsburg and was registered at the Seventh avenue hotel. Before leaving last night Mr. Levering said that the invitation to the President had been issued some time ago and a reply had been received saying that the President would take the trip if possible. Mr. Levering stated that there was plenty of bear in the timberlands of that county and the lumbermen would assure President Roosevelt more bear than he captured in the west. He said that if the invitation was accepted a large banquet would be given at Clearfield and that several days would be spent in the backwoods. When the President gets through hunting, Mr. Levering said, he will be taken down the West branch of the Susquehanna river to Williamsport, where he can board the train for Washington.

Laid His Head on Rail in Front of Train.

One of the queerest suicides on record occurred on the Fall Brook district of the New York Central railroad early Wednesday evening. At Himrod, a station north of Corning, an unknown man was noticed standing alongside the track and acting in a peculiar manner. As northbound frieght train No. 2280 approached the place where he was standing he dropped on the ground and deliberately placed his head on one of the rails. Before bystanders could interfere the engine had reached him and crushed his head to a pulp. It was impossible to recognize the man and there was nothing on his person that would identify him He was aged between 45 and 50 years.

Individual Aggressiveness.

Supposing a new family moves into neighborhood. Say they are well shod and that the last thing they are thinking about is new shoes. They take the local paper, read the news and casually glance over the advertisements, which all have a sameness about them. They see that "Smith & Son" carry shoes, dry goods, clothing, groceries, etc., and ask everybody to "give us a call." But the newcomers pay no attention to the invitation. Next week "Smith & Son" change their adv., and in the place of the regulation stereotyped notice they publish a neat cut of a lady's shoe with an inviting description, saying that it is made of Vici, has a Cuban heel, and silk facings; is sewed with silk, etc.—and the female portion of the household immediately gets interested. Although they don't need any shoes just yet, they keep that adv. in mind, and the first time they go to town they hunt up "Smith & Son," and if the shoe comes anywhere near the specifications, they but it, and probably some other articles besides.

But let us suppose that family takes no paper. The first time they happen to be in town they take a glance up and down the street, sizing up the different stores. Are they going into that store with an unpainted front, no sign, no show windows and nothing to attract them? Not much! They hunt up a store that has some individuality about it, one that takes pride enough in its business to make a bid for trade. Take these examples for instance. A hustler dealer buys out a run-down old store with ditto stock and proceeds to infuse a little life into the business. His first move is to paint the whole store front a bright red. He had handbills printed in red ink, uses red wrapping paper, and from that time forth his store is known as the "Red Front." He does business from the start, and keeps it up by injecting his personality into it, which soon makes itself felt all over the community. Another dealer, an old-timer, in the same town, made his boast that he had "never spent a dollar for advertising in the his life." He holds out no inducements to attract custom whatever. As a natural result, the trade all went up to the "Red Front."

If you have no desire to spend any money on printers' ink, you can at least make your store look attractive. By all means make some kind of a window display. A poor display is better than none but a neat one can be arranged with very little effort and expense. People will trade with the merchant who appreciates their business enough to make a bid for it. The fellow who is asleep will not be disturbed in his slumbers except by nightmares of sheriff's levies.—Shoe and Leather Gazette.

Is It a Stradivarius?

James C. Megahan, of Huntingdon, owns a violin which he believes was made by Stradivarius in 1687, and supposed to be one of the set made for the King of Spain.

The violin was bought in the city of Madrid at a high price by Ole Bull, the renowned Norwegian violinist, and brought by him to America about 1852 At the time he was attempting to form a colony of Swedes and Norwegians in Potter county on 120,000 acres of land which he had bought for the purpose. Ole Bull was unsuccessful in holding his land owing to a flaw in the title, and he soon became a bankrupt. His castle high up on one of the hills of Potter county is still in existence, and the town Olean commemorates his name.

A subsequent owner of the violin was Amos Walbridge, a noted violinist of Pottsville, Pa., who died some years ago. The violin was left to Walbridge's nephew, George Bookhamer, a player in a theatre orchestra, who just before his death, left it with William Humphrey of Altoona. Mr. Humphrey, not being a violinist, sold it to Mr. Megahan of Huntingdon.

The violin is composed of about 500 pieces, whereas the ordinary violin is made up of not more than 58 pieces. It is inlayed with mother-of-pearl on both sides at the edges. Two threads of ivory encircle the sides back and front and the sets of pearl are inlade between the threads. The instrument is in good condition and only shows service where the chin has rested upon it. It has a remarkably good tone.

A Man 111 Years Old.

According to newspaper reports there is a man named Thomas Morris in Lincoln, Nebraska, who is 111 years old, who still has the use of all his faculties, and enjoys life. Mr. Morris attributes his long life to the fact that he has always refrained from hot bread and pastry. "I have always smoked and chewed tobacco," he said, "and found it a comfort. I do not suppose it has given me any longer life, but it has made me more serene.' The fact that this man has lived a decade more than a hundred years, and intends to live some more, ought to make all persons of eighty years and upwards brace up and resolve to live at least twenty years longer.

1,000 Penn'a Veterans of War Die in Year.

A forceful reminder of approaching Memorial Day appears in the statistics of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Pennsylvania, which show that 1,000 veterans of the rebellion die in this state during the year between each Decoration Day.

There is a slight but steady increase in the number of these deaths annually. It is estimated that 100 veterans die daily in the United States.

A call was recently issued from the quartermaster's department, United States army, for proposals for furnishing the government with 10,000 white headstones. Since 1885, when 7,500 stones were bought the number has steadily grown larger. Last year 11,500 were ordered.

The headstones are sent free to all the Grand Army posts, camps of Spanish war veterans and national cemeteries in the country to mark graves of men who served the nation in war. The cost of the stones to the government at wholesale is $3 each.

Mechanical Stokers on Pennsy Railroad.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company is experimenting with a device called a stoker, on engine 1929 of the middle division, and if proved successful will be adopted by the company. This machine has been placed in service on several of the western roads and is a great assistance to the firemen. It is attached to the fire door of the engine and the top resembles the top of a cider press.

The only work required is the throwing of coal into this stoker and if the lumps are too large they are crushed by the machine. The coal is spread equally over the bed of fire and no hooking is required to keep up the steam of the boiler. One of the other good qualities of the device is that it prevents to a great extent the leaking of the flues which so often make it difficult to keep up a good fire.

When the air from the fire door reaches the flues at present it causes them to contract and very often leak. A small amount of air is permitted to get into the fire box by the stoker and by this means greatly saves the engine.

Brick Plant Running Both Day and Night.

One of the busiest places in Clinton county at present is the Pennsylvania Fire Brick company's plant at Beech Creek. This company now has 190 persons on its pay roll and is running the plant day and night to its fullest capacity to meet the demand for its products. The reputation of the Pennsylvania Fire Brick company for making high grade hand made brick is well established and orders are already booked ahead for several months. The company owns a large body of some of the finest clay lands in this section and besides this has control of other fine clay on a royalty. This gives it practically an unlimited amount of clay and will enable it to maintain its record for first-class brick in the market indefinitely. The company numbers among its customers some of the largest concerns and corporations in the United States.

Many Old Senators Dead.

The mortality among the older members of the Senate has been emphasized by the death of Senator Platt, of Connecticut. One year ago there were fourteen members of the Senate who were more than 70 years old. Today there are only nine who have passed the threescore and ten years' limit. In twelve months one-third of these old men have passed away.

Those who have died within that period are: Senators Quay, of Pennsylvania; Hoar, of Massachusetts; Bate, of Tennessee; Hawley and Platt, of Connecticut. The men remaining in the Senate who have passed 70 years are Morgan and Pettus, of Alabama; Teller, of Colorado; Cullom, of Illinois; Allison, of Iowa; Frye, of Maine; Platt and Depew, of New York, and Proctor, of Vermont.

Base Ball for 1905.

John J. McGraw's Official Baseball Guide for 1905, just published, is one of the most complete books of the kind ever issued. It contains everything that is of interest to the enthusiasts, and the special feature is a chapter on Jack Chesebro's famous spit ball, with illustrations, showing how that wonderful curve can be mastered. The Guide has many full-page illustrations, and contains instructions how to play every position on a nine. It has all the official rules, the new rules for the post-season championship games, schedule of the season's games, averages, and standing of all the leagues It is No. 10 of Fox's Athletic Library, and will be sent to any address on receipt of the price, 10 cents, with 4 cents extra for postage.

Courts Fix Proper License Fee.

By virtue of a law recently passed by the legislature and signed by Gov. Pennypacker on April 17, the Common Pleas court of the state will be given the right to say whether license taxes on corporations are reasonable or not and, if they are not, what would be the proper tax.

The new law affects only telegraph, telephone, light and power companies, and directs that in case of a dispute between a municipal corporation of thi class, the Common Pleas courts of the proper county shall be the adjudicator, the usual right of appeal being allowed.

Probably the most important section of the law is that which directs the said Common Pleas court, in case of a dispute over the reasonableness of license fees between a city and a corporation of the classes mentioned, to determine not only whether the license tax in question is reasonable, but if not adjudged reasonable, to determine what would be a proper tax. The section is as follows:

"Section 3. The said court, in its decision of said dispute, shall determine the amount of annual license fees which should be paid to the said municipal corporation in order to properly compensate it for the necessary cost of the services performed, or to be performed by it, for the inspection and regulation of the wires, poles, conduits or cables of the said telegraph, telephone, light or power company; and the amount thus determined shall be the maximum sum which the said municipal corporation shall be authorized to charge as license fees against such petitioning corporations."

Giant Bed.

Mrs. J. Y. Dale is in possession of a giant bed that is of great interest to the local inhabitants. The bed at present is in the shops of Fred W. Weber, Boalsburg, for repairs, in addition to having a canopy and stairs built to reach the bed proper. This unique piece of furniture is over one hundred years old and has been handed down from generation to generation by the family of Mrs. Dale. Originally the bed cost $80. It was made to order for a man weighing 250 pounds, and six feet, four inches tall. The wife of this man was not so tall, but of about the same weight. The second generation, five members in the family, all slept in the bed at one time. For a long time the bed was discarded, but never lost sight of.

The dimensions of this giant bed will be of interest: Height, seven feet, eleven inches; length, seven feet; width, six feet; height to top of mattress, thirty-eight inches. The material is of red birch, white maple and cherry. The posts and headboard are hand carved. There is no footboard.

Mrs. Dale is having an expensive mattress made for the bed and will fit it out in the best of style.

Honesty Rewarded

It is seldom that real honesty is not rewarded. This is demonstrated by the transaction noted below:

Some time ago Rowland Watts, a Baltimore fertilizer agent, came to Centre Hall and secured a rig at Boozer's livery and James Fetterolf as driver. A trip was made through the western part of the county, and at Scotia the agent took the train. On reaching his next stopping place, Mr. Watts discovered that he had lost $30 in paper money, but had no idea where he and his money had parted. When reaching home Mr. Fetterolf reported that he had found a wad of money wrapped in a blank piece of paper and that he believed that the cash was the property of Mr. Watts, he having been the only stranger who had been in the buggy that day. The information was sent the agent, who related his experience, and later Mr. Boozer sent his check to Mr. Watts for the corresponding amount. In acknowledging the receipt of the same Mr. Watts enclosed a check of $5.00 for Mr. Fetterolf.—Centre Hall Reporter.

ARRESTED FOR GRAVE CRIME!

William Daly of Stroudsburg Charged.

WITH GRAND LARCENY

Alleged to Have Secured $27,000 on Forged Signature from Equitable Life Assurance Company.

SAID TO OPERATE UNDER ALIASES.

Stroudsburg, Pa., May 18.—William Daly was arrested here Tuesday and placed in the county jail by a detective agency of New York city charged with grand larceny. Daly, it is alleged, stole $27,000 from an insurance company. A letter from Robert E. Elder, first assistant district attorney of Kings county, New York, sent to Sheriff Evans, of this county, put the authorities here on the watch.

New York, May 18.—The man who was arrested at Stroudsburg, Pa., under the name of William Daly yesterday is charged with the larceny of $27,000 from the Equitable Life Assurance society in this city by the use of a forged signature of a holder of a $50,000 policy and by conspiracy with an employe of the Equitable society. Daly's name is said to be Lobeley, but he is alleged to have operated under the aliases of Edwards, Robert C. Henderson and Father Smith.

In a statement issued by officials of the Equitable society it was claimed that William C. Cotton, of Brookline, Mass., is the owner of a $50,000 policy in the Equitable society. In March, 1904, he borrowed $27,000 on it, depositing the policy with the society as a security for the loan. A few months later, the officials say, the policy was stolen from the vaults of the company by a trusted employe working in conjunction with Lobeley, the books of the society containing a record of the previous loan were altered and Cotton's name was forged to an application for another loan of $27,000. The second loan was made it is declared, to Lobely.

Last January, the officials say, the operation was repeated in part and a third loan would have been made if the paying teller of a bank had not held up on the Equitable society's check, suspecting, that something was wrong and insisting upon identification. Lobeley, alleged to have been the holder of the check, disappeared. He was found by detectives living in a small hotel at Spragueville, Pa., near Stroudsburg.

The name of his alleged confederate in the employ of the Equitable society has not been made public. Detectives will go to Pennsylvania after Lobeley as soon as extradition papers are prepared.

Knights Templar Conclave.

Constance Commandery is making extensive preparations to attend the 52nd annual Conclave of the Grand Commandery at Williamsport. They will leave Bellefonte at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday morning, May 23rd, in a special train via. Central R. R. of Pa., arriving at Williamsport about 8:20 a. m. in time for the parade of more than 5000 Knights and twenty-five bands. Returning the party will leave Williamsport for Bellefonte about 10 o'clock in the evening. These special trains are not private and any of our people may take advantage of this opportunity to witness the parade and other doings of the Conclave. For this occasion tickets will be sold at one-way fare for the round trip or $1.50 from Bellefonte. Details as to train schedules and other matters pertaining to the conclave will appear in these columns in a few days.

The "Maine" Way.

We advised people generally, last November, to go to court rather than pay lighting bills which were unreasonable. Mr. C. W. Rollins, publisher of the "Enterprise" of Old Town, Maine, not only acted on the hint, but urged his readers to rebellion also. The company threatened Mr. Rollins with discontinuance of the service, whereupon he appealed for an injunction. The court decided that the company not only could not collect the back bills in dispute, but owed Mr. Rollins enough through overcharge, not only to pay those bills, but to apply something on the April bill. The company also paid the costs. Other people in Bangor and Old Town will naturally now turn in to secure their rights under the wing of this decision, the company's contention that it was the only judge of reasonableness having been upset. Mr. Rollins informs us that the same company owns the electric railway and the waterworks, and is controlled by the General Electric Company, which is supposed to be Standard Oil; and that the Bangor Gas Company is owned by the American Gas Company; that the electric company charges a minimum price of 80 cents per month for electric light, which was not done when a previous company owned the plant. Mr. Rollins has had the light for ten years or more, and has protested every time he had to pay 80 cents for one, two, three, or four thousand watt-hours, when the rate is 16 cents per thousand. If he went to a summer cottage for a month, and so did not burn the light, the bill of 80 cents must be paid. It is called a maintenance charge. The charter does not provide for any such charge, and the company was run for eight years without it. "Why," asks the victim, "has not the ice man the same right to make a maintenance charge of so much per month during the winter, and the coal man during the summer?" We have not been to Bangor, but the story sounds familiar, all except Mr. Rollins's energetic stand.—Collier's, May 13.

Roast Beef and Turkey.

Discussing the comparative food value of roast beef and turkey, the Lancet says:

First, it may be said that weight for weight the flesh of the turkey is more nourishing than that of beef, but the latter is, generally speaking, cheaper than the former. The moisture in beef, however, exceeds the amount present in the flesh of the turkey, and the latter contains a better percentage of proteid, of flesh forming substance. In either case the percentage of moisture is seldom less than 70 per cent. In lean beef, the amount of fat is much the same as in a not too well fed turkey, but, it must be pointed out that the flesh of poultry differs from that of beef or mutton in not having its muscular fibers permeated by fat, and, moreover, the fibers in the flesh of fowl are short and readily yield to digestive action of the digestive process. A large amount of fat in either case is apt to interfere with the indigestibility of the meat. The fat of beef is more digestible than the fat of the turkey. The fat of birds, in fact, is harder and owing to its tendency to become rancid is unsuitable for the dyspeptic patient.

Perhaps the most important difference, however, from a dietetic point of view between beef and turkey is that whereas beef contains a high percentage of extractive matters turkey contains hardly any at all. The extractive matters in beef account largely for its peculiar and marked flavor, and owing to their absence in poultry generally and in the pheasant and partridge the flavor of these meats is delicate. But there is no doubt that the extractives of beef as well as of mutton are valuable, for not only are they flavoring agents, but they also act as perhaps the most powerful stimulants to gastric digestion.

Judge Forgot his Dog.

Ex-Judge Krebs of Clearfield arrived at Mill Hall Monday on his way to Bellefonte. Among his luggage was a fine bird dog, which was in the baggage car. In transferring trains at Mill Hall the judge forgot his dog and the latter was carried as far as Castenea. When Mr. Krebs discovered his loss he telephoned to the Castanea station to remove the dog and forward him to Bellefonte on the next train. The dog was cared for during the night by Charles Long of the Castanea station and in the morning Mr. Long sent him to Bellefonte.

MAJOR C. S. W. JONES.

His Death at Tyrone on Saturday Evening Removed an honored Citizen.

Major C. S. W. Jones, editor and proprietor of the Tyrone Herald, after being confined to his bed for ten days with kidney and heart affections, died at his home in that place on Saturday evening, May 6, shortly after 5 o'clock, aged about 62 years.

The deceased was a son of Samuel and Elizabeth Jones, and was born in Graysville, Huntingdon county, October 29, 1842.

He removed to Tyrone with his parents at an early age, received a common school education and early in life learned the printer's trade and had been connected with the Tyrone Herald as foreman, part owner and owner ever since it was established in 1867. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature in 1889-90 and was afterward appointed postmaster of Tyrone.

Maj. Jones enlisted in Company F, Second Pennsylvania cavalry early in the Civil war, occupying all the regular places by graduation from private to first lieutenant. He became captain of Company B early in 1865 and later was captain of Company B, First Provisional Pennsylvania Mounted volunteers, a regiment formed by the consolidation of the second and Twentieth Pennsylvania cavalry regiments.

Major Jones had been connected with the Sheridan troop, cavalry, of the Pennsylvania National Guard, since it was organized in 1871. With this organization he was mustered into the United States service as captain during the Spanish American war on May 11, 1898. At camp Alger on July 21, 1898, Maj. Jones was commissioned a major of the battalion of Pennsylvania volunteer cavalry and was mustered out July 27.

On July 1, 1869, Captain Jones was united in marriage to Anna N, Harper, to which union two children were born, Amber (deceased) and Miss Ange. Mrs. Jones died April 13, 1883. Mr. Jones was married a second time in 1892 to Miss Mary Minary, who survives. One sister, Mrs. John A. Hiltner, of Tyrone, and one brother, Benjamin, of Philadelphia, also survive. He leaves a number of relatives in Philipsburg.

William F. Pownell.

The death of William F. Pownell at his late residence near Yarnell on Saturday morning, May 6th, came very unexpectedly and was a severe blow to his family and community. The deceased had been ill only a few days, when pneumonia developed, to which disease he soon succumbed. He was born March 27th, 1856, and was consequently 49 years, 1 month and 9 days old. He was well known and much esteemed for his many amiable qualities and genial hospitality. Last January he professed conversion, since which time he has been living in the Christian's hope. He died in the faith of the Christ to whom he had surrendered.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nettie Pownell, his mother, Mrs. Mary Wilson, of Yarnell, and the following children: Ellis B., of Altoona; Mrs. George McClincy, of South Forks; and Elmer M., Meta E., Samantha, Laura and Lloyd, all at home. There also survive him one brother, Calvin Pownell, of Altoona, and a half-brother, Harris Walker, of Yarnell.

Funeral services were held Monday, May 8, conducted by pastors Lathrop and Bingham. These were largely attended and the Messiah church was taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate the relatives and friends who came to attest their appreciation of his life and sympathize with the bereaved family. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

Death of Rev. R. L. Armstrong.

Rev. R. L. Armstrong, late pastor of the M. E. church on the Wallaceton charge, and who several months ago was compelled to suspend active work on account of ill health, died at Howard on Sunday evening May 7, while on a visit to Rev. E. M. Aller.

The deceased was aged 62 years, and was a member of the Central Pennsylvania conference, filling a number of different appointments, having preached at Woodland several years ago. On April 1st he went to Lock Haven to make his home with his son, I. P. Armstrong. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Maude and Mary at home, and two sons, I. P., of Lock Haven, and W. L., of Espy.

Prizes for Puzzle Solvers.

The greatest prize scheme for puzzle solvers ever offered by a newspaper is that inaugurated recently by the Sunday North American, of Philadelphia. For a long time that paper has been presenting each week, a puzzle for young folks, and has been offering a long list of prizes. But the offers grew to be so numerous that many boys and girls were, of necessity, disappointed. It was not possible to make a list of prizes to keep up with the increase of correct answers.

Something new had to be invented.

Now, did you ever hear of a Puzzle Contest, in which nobody is disappointed?

Then it must be Polly Evans' new Weekly Puzzle Contest, for here is the only one anywhere in which nobody is disappointed.

Think of it—nobody disappointed.

If you answer a puzzle incorrectly, you do not look for any reward, of course; but if you answer it correctly it is but natural that you should expect to be rewarded, and that you should feel disappointed if you find you are not rewarded.

That is what Polly Evans always thought, and she spent many an hour trying to devise some plan of prize-giving that would mean No Disappointed boys and girls.

At last—just a few weeks ago—an idea occurred to her! The North American approved of it at once, and the result that, since April 15—the day the plan was first announced—there have been no disappointed children in Polly Evans' Puzzle Contest.

For, thanks to her new system of Prize Credits.

Polly Evans is now able to reward every boy and every girl who answers her puzzles correctly.

In brief, the plan is as follows:

You answer Polly Evans' puzzle correctly. You many send your answer on as many coupons cut from the puzzle page as you please. Polly Evans rewards you with a prize credit for every coupon you send. If you send five correct coupons to one puzzle, you get five prize credits. If you send one, you get one credit.

In exchange for your prize credits, you get your choice of hundreds of fine prizes described in the illustrated Prize Circular which Polly Evans sends by mail at the end of each month to every prize-credit winner.

Besides rewarding you with Prize Credits which are exchangeable for prizes, Polly Evans also awards to the 300 or 400 finest appearing coupons special prizes and surprises, which are announced with each weekly puzzle.

And in order to encourage you to earn as many prize credits as you possibly can, Polly Evans offers every month Handsome grand special prizes to the two boys and two girls who win the highest and next highest number of prize credits respectively during the month.

Valuable Gifts to Dickinson Seminary.

Williamsport Dickinson seminary has recently been made the recipient of several valuable and substantial gifts, which greatly increase the equipment of the school.

Dr. Monroe, pastor of the First M. E. church of Shomokin, has presented the school with a portion of his private library. The collection consists of between 400 and 500 volumes of science, philosophy, theology and religion. The collection is very valuable, as the volumes are, to a large, extent unobtainable at present from other sources.

The Historical society of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist conference also presented its library to the seminary. This consists of 500 volumes and pamphlets, which are also very valuable.

The addition of these two libraries gives the seminary a most complete and comprehensive library

Another valuable present recently to the institution is a complete and thorough up-to-date bowling alley, which was opened for the first Thursday. It is a present from W. L. Sykes, of Buffalo, a member of the board of directors. The alley is built on the second floor of the gymnasium and cost about $1,000. It is a double alley. Mr. Sykes also placed slate blackboards in the recitation rooms, replacing the old wooden boards. This improvement cost several hundred dollars.

A new tennis court has also been constructed this spring, making four in all.

Increase of Capital Stock.

Harrisburg, May 6.—The Great Southern Lumber company, of Harrisburg, has filed notice in the State Department of an increase in its capital stock from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000. The Federal Granite Brick company, of Scranton has increased its capital from $25,000 to $100,000, and the Enterprise Coal company, of Scranton from $300,000 to $600,000.

Just commenced in the New York Family Story paper

or the adventures of a Female Sherlock Holmes a realistic romance founded on fact by Fanny May. You who have been reading the daily papers can easily imagine how the thought came to the author's mind to write this story. Though purely a romance, many of its most sensational and dramatic scenes are based on fact. It is a startling expose of a wicked man's wiles. This realistic romance begins in No. 1644 of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., May 18th.

By the splendid manliness of his reply to the striking teamsters, the absolute lack of anything suggestive of demagoguery, his insistence that the law must be obeyed and that order must be preserved, and his assertion, made at the Iroquois Club of Chicago, that the State was behind Mayor Dunne and the Nation behind the State, the president has disarmed his enimies and made a giant stride toward the accomplishment of that legislation which he regards as essential to the proper control of the railroads of the country. He has left no opportunity for men to say that he is revolutionary, or that he is "playing for effect," and his recommendations must be received as the sincer belief of a man who is honest and fearless beyond question. As there prevails considerable confusion regarding the reforms which the President hopes to effect and the evils he seeks to remedy, a somewhat detailed explanation of the situation seems appropriate for these letters particularly, as most of this information has been gained in personal conversations with the President himself.

The railroads will gladly accept any regulation which will effectually prevent all the forms of discrimination which curtail their profits, but they will oppose to the bitter end any legislation which will more completely establish the right of the government to regulate and supervise their business. It is the desire of the President that Congress shall frame a law which will remedy all these evils and establish, for all time, the rights of the people, as exercised by their representative, the government, over the ironed public highways.

Merchants Ready for Big "Drumming" Trip.

Special Trade Visitation Train No. 1 of the Merchants and Travelers' Association, carrying 100 or more of Philadelphia's largest merchants, will leave that city on June 26 for a five days' trip through the central part of the State, says the Public Ledger.

Twenty-four cities and towns will be visited, and their respective business men made thoroughly acquainted with Philadelphia's industries and the unrivaled advantages this market offers in nearly every line of trade.

Arrangements for the trip were completed Friday night by the association's Committee on Passenger Transportation, consisting of Gustav Daniel, Chairman; Frank S. Evans, president of the association, and A. Lincoln Acker. The "special" will be run on a regular schedule, and the business men of each place visited will be apprised by circular of the time and arrival. The circular also will fully set forth the objects of the trip and the hour the visitors may expect to call upon merchants to make their acquaintance and discuss with them individually the value and advantage to them of buying in this market,

TO ADVERTISE PHILADELPHIA.

Much literature got up by the association especially to advertise Philadelphia and Philadelphia's industries will be distributed on the trip, and in every way possible the profitable opportunities this city offers buyers will be presented in the most practical and convincing form.

In all other respects the merchants' visits to out-of-town buyers will be entirely social. Active trading will constitute no part of the objects of the trip. To come in close personal touch with buyers and impress upon them the benefits to be derived from enlarging their trade here and to demonstrate to the trade generally the superiority of Philadelphia's markets will be the chief end and aim of the visiting merchants.

The first of the "special trains" will be run over the Pennsylvania Railroad system. Leaving Broad Street Station at 7 30 o'clock on Monday morning, June 26, the first stop will be made at Coatesville, and on that day Lancaster, Columbia, York and Harrisburg also will be visited.

The following morning the "special" will leave Harrisburg at 8 o'clock for Newport, Mifflintown, Lewistown, Huntingdon and Bellefonte, where the merchants will stop over night. The schedule for the other three days of the trip is as follows: June 28, Lock Haven, Williamsport, Sunbury and Scranton; June 29, Wilkesbarre, Hazleton, Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Ashland and Pottsville; June 30, Reading, Pottstown, Phoenixville and Norristown, arriving in Philadelphia about 8 o'clock that night. —Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Knights Templar at Williamsport.

The Conclave of Pennsylvania's Sir Knights at Williamsport May 23rd and 24th will probably surpass anything of the kind seen in this section of the state for years and likely will not be seen again in a long time. The Electrical display has been arranged on a magnificent scale. Lights of various colors outlining the numerous emblems and mottos of the order and in such profusion as to practically turn night into day. The Court of Honor comprising 28 columns 27 feet high extending from Pine and 3rd Streets to Mulberry and 3rd Streets will be one of the chief attractions of the occasion. These will require about 7500 incandescent lamps and promises to make the streets of fair Williamsport more radiantly effulgent with the blaze of electricity than those of any other City in the state upon a similar state occasion.

Constans Commandry of Bellefonte will go down in a body accompanied by the State College Band of 35 pieces and has arranged for a one-way rate for the round trip good Tuesday May 23rd, the day of the parade. They expect to have between 300 and 400 people in the party and are looking forward to the trip with a good deal of pleasure.

Death of Eugene Minsker.

The report published in the papers last week that Eugene H. Minsker, formerly of this place, but late of Seattle, Wash., had committed suicide in that city, Saturday April 22nd by shooting himself was incorrect. Eugene Bible, of Philadelphia, a nephew of Mr. Minsker, has just returned from Seattle and he states that his uncle's death was due to heart failure. The doctors say he had been suffering from heart disease for years. On the day of his death he was working on the wharf at Seattle unloading some goods. He suddenly fell over his temple striking a nail or other projectile on the floor of the wharf. The fall caused an ugly wound on the head but the doctors say Mr. Minsker was dead before his head struck the wharf.

Two Borough Laws.

The Glorious Fourth is approaching and the dealers are preparing to lay in their supply of fireworks for the occasion. It will be well for them to remember that there is an Act of Assembly prohibiting the manufacture and sale of dynamite firecrackers. It was approved June 19, 1901, and reads as follows:

Any person or persons manufacturing or selling firecrackers containing dynamite, chlorate of potash, or any explosive except that containing ordinary gunpowder * * * shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than $50 and not more than $100, or by imprisonment of a term of not less than six months and not more than one year, at the discretion of the Court.

Another Act of Assembly, approved April 15, 1903, declares it to be unlawful for any person "to discharge on the streets or alleys of any city or borough in this Commonwealth, a flobert rifle, air gun, spring gun, or any implement which impels with force a metal pellet of any kind." The penalty is $5 for the first offense and $15 for the second; and the committing magistrate is further authorized to impose for the second offence an imprisonment of from 10 to 30 days in the county jail.

We publish these laws at our own expense for the information of the public and the municipal authorities. They are wise enactments and ought to be strictly enforced.

A Tribute to Gilbert Wood.

The high esteem in which Gilbert Wood was held by his class mates at the University of Pennsylvania is amply testified too by the following resolutions of respect adopted by his class mates.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a special meeting of the class of 1905 of the department of Dentistry, of the University of Pennsylvania, held on May 10th, 1905, the following resolutions were authorized:

WHEREAS, Divine Providence has seen fit to remove from our midst our much esteemed friend and fellow classmate Gilbert H. Wood; be it thereby

Resolved, That it is with the deepest regret that we learn of the death of our brother student, and we extend to his parents and relatives our heartfelt sympathy, in their hour of sorrow and bereavement. We realize that while we have lost a dear friend, a man of noble character and high possibilities how much greater must the loss be to those of kindred ties and we commend them to seek comfort in Him, who is able to sustain them in their hour of grief.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his parents, that the same be recorded in our minutes and be published in the next issue of the "Penn Dental" Journal.

At a special meeting of the "James Truman" Dental Society; May 10th 1905, the following resolutions were drawn:

WHEREAS, The Almighty who in his mercy and wisdom hath so ordered that our beloved companion and fellow member Gilbert H. Wood should be taken from us; be it therefore

Resolved, That we his fellow members of the "James Truman" Dental Society have lost a worthy member an ardent worker and a faithful officer.

Resolved, That with all subservience to the will of our Creator, we none the less mourn the great loss of our friend and fellow member, and extend to his family, our deepest sympathy and heartfelt condolences.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased friend, that they be recorded in the minutes of this Society and published in the next issue of the "Penn Dental" Journal.

Resolutions of Sympathy Adopted by the Bellefonte Ministerial Association.

Inasmuch as our brother and colaborer, the Rev. J. A. Wood, Jr., has been called upon to suffer a heavy affliction, in the death of his son Gilbert; a young man rich in promise and strong in Christian character.

We, the Bellefonte Ministerial Association, desire to express our sincere sympathy for our bereaved brother and his sorrowing family, assuring them that our hearts are touched deeply for them, and our prayers are offered in their behalf.

May the everlasting arms sustain them; may the Comforter Divine speak peace to their souls.

May the sunshine of His love break through the clouds and give them a vision of the home beyond.

May it be for them but a lengthening of the chain, binding the home on earth to the home in heaven.

Resolved, that a copy of this action be sent to the Rev. J. A. Wood, Jr. and be published in "The Republican."

Guier—Davidson.

On Wednesday evening, May 10th, at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Engler, Philadelphia, Miss Clara M. Davidson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Davidson, of 214 North Centre street, Philipsburg, was united in marriage to Mr. Louis J. Guier, of Cartago, Costa Rico, C. A., by the Rev. R. F. Wertz, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Tamaqua. Mr. Guier was graduated from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy in 1903. It was while attending college that he became acquainted with Miss Davidson. After graduating he returned to Central America and remained there until this spring. Mr. and Mrs. Guier will reside in Philadelphia.

LIST OF DEAD INCREASED.

the crew of a shifting engine ahead on the same track. The engineer quickly put on the airbrakes and the train, an unusually long one, came to a sudden halt. The strain on the air valves was a severe one, and one of the connecting valves in the middle of the train blew out. This caused the middle of the train to "buckle" and the damaged cars fell over on the passenger tracks.

Just as this happened the Cleveland express came thundering up and "sideswiped" the wreck. The express was stopped within its own length and the third sleeper was opposite the wrecked cars. Before any one could leave the passenger train, which was not very badly damaged, a few slight explosions occurred, and then there was one great flash androar that shook the earth. The whole thing occurred within the short period of a few seconds.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 17.—Two more victims of the wreck of the Cleveland and Cincinnati express on the Pennsylvania railroad at South Harrisburg, Thursday, died Friday bringing the total number of deaths up to twenty-two. Two others are in a critical condition. Sixteen of the dead have been identified. The bodies of the others are so horribly charred and burned that it is doubtful if they will ever be positively identified.

The identified dead are:

Samuel Shubert, the New York theatrical manager.

Max Stettheimer, a New York manufacturer.

Thomas Lewis, Pullman conductor, of Philadelphia.

Chas Biscinni, Philadelphia.

Miss Yetta Robinson, Cleveland.

V. L. Crabbe, Pittsburg,

Paul Bright, Pittsburg.

Geo. Zeigler, Pittsburg.

Jas R. Philips, Pittsburg.

Albert Crosby, Philadelphia, conductor of express.

Rudolphus Martina, Italian infant, of New York.

Mrs. Robert O. Dougherty, Philadelphia.

C. Kuhlman, Altoona.

G. F. Silverman, Philadelphia.

H. K. Thomas, Philadelphia, engineer of express.

Mr. Shaw, Pittsburg.

Mr. Shubert died Friday morning at the Commonwealth hotel, surrounded by members of his family and business associates. His body was taken to New York this afternoon in a special car furnished by the Pennsylvania railroad. Funeral services will be held next Monday in New York. The body will be held in a vault until the arrival of Lee Shubert, a brother now in Europe. Mr. Shubert's attorney, Wm. Klein, and Abe Thalheimer, one of his managers, who were also injured in the wreck, returned to New York with the body.

Max Stettheimer died yesterday afternoon at the Harrisburg hospital, his body being taken to New York yesterday evening by a brother, who came here Thursday night. Another brother arrived here with Mr. Stettheimer's family physician soon after he passed away.

Joseph Eberly, of New York, and Mrs. Anna Peters, of Cleveland, are at the hospital and are not expected to live. All the other injured at the hospital are doing well and are expected to recover. Three of the charred bodies at the temporary morgue were identified today as Thomas Lewis, who was recognized by his gold watch and chain. Charles Bisinni and Miss Robinson, who were recognized by their teeth.

The coroner, Geo. C. Krause, with his jury, today again visited the scene of the wreck and interviewed several of the injured and friends of the dead. The inquest will not be held until after the railroad company has completed its inquiry into the cause of the disaster.

The first funeral, that of the Italian child, took place here yesterday. The body was burried in the Roman Catholic cemetery. The railroad company still has a large force of watchmen on duty at the scene of the disaster to prevent the taking away of any valuables that may be found.

Public services over the bodies of the unidentified dead will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Market Square Presbyterian church. Each of the bodies will be dressed and placed in a separate coffin for interment in the Harrisburg cemetery. Many of the prominent ministers of the city will officiate in the service.

Everyone Was Pleased With Mrs. Seberry.

The visit of Mrs. Cora E. Seberry, national lecturer and organizer for the W. C. T. U., brought to Bellefonte one of the most gifted women on the American platform and those who failed to hear her on Sunday afternoon in Petrikin hall certainly missed a rare treat. It is to be regretted that the rooms were not packed.

The W. C. T. U. have brought many—very many fine speakers to Bellefonte. Has it ever occurred to you that to this organization is largely due whatever there is of temperance sentiment in the town? With very few exceptions has there been a speaker who has not come under their auspices. Mrs. Seberry gave one of the best and most practical talks those who heard it said they had ever heard. She dealt with the prevailing sins of the day, the duties of parents to warn their young children against evil, the social purity question, the white slave trade the work being done by the ship inspectors of the W. C. T. U. A woman that speaks several foreign languages and who goes out in a little pilot boat to meet every ship bringing in emigrants that she may seek out and rescue young girls who are being brought into our country for infamous purposes. And just here she paid a high tribute to President Roosevelt. Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, our legal representative in Washington, says: "President Roosevelt has done more for the W. C. T. U. than any President we have ever had. A short time ago when these two women inspectors had been removed by the collector of the port of New York, Mrs. Ellis went to the President, laid the work out before him, he received her most kindly and said: "Mrs Ellis this is a good work I will do all I can to aid it. And he at once gave orders that the inspectors should be reinstated. And the new collector is very helpful in aiding them. While these topics are delicate ones to deal with Mrs. Seberry used such chaste, beautiful language and is so tactful withal that no one could take exception. She especially begged young women to demand of young men that their lives be as clean and pure as their own. A beautiful hymn by Mrs. Meyer and Miss Dorworth, two of our good friends, and the closing benediction by Rev. Davidson, who also opened the meeting with an appropriate Scripture lesson and the meeting closed. The only regret being that more did not hear Mrs. Seberry.

Street Ice Cream

From the Medical Record.

Typhoid fever has been traced to various causes, and for a long time ice cream has been regarded as a means of conveying this disease. In the Lancet some time ago an account was given by Dr. W. G. Barras of an alarming outbreak of enteric fever which occurred in September last at Govan, Scotland, and which was clearly traced to infected ice cream. It has been conclusively proved that the disease may be spread by the use of ice cream by the fact that its micro-organism has been cultivated after having been frozen in ice for a considerable period. There are so many agencies by which typhoid fever may be spread that it behooves the health departments of cities to keep a watchful eye on all suspected sources of infection and means of dissemination. The ice cream season fast approaching, and it would be well to exercise vigilance over the methods employed in its manufacture by the horde of peripatetic venders of this popular summer delicacy in New York.

An Exciting Time at Coleville.

An Arabian who keeps a small store at Coleville created considerable excitement on Monday morning and as a result he is now behind the bars at Fort Taylor. For some reason he quarrelled with his wife and became so infuriated that he beat her and pulled her hair out by the handfuls. The affray happened in the store and the police were telephoned for. Constable Isaac Dawson of Spring township deputized officer George Jodon to go with him and the two went out to Coleville. They found the store completely wrecked. The Arabian had smashed all the show cases and the contents were strewn over the floor. He threatened to kill his wife and was armed with a hammer. Officer Jodon soon had the nippers on him and with Constable Dawson brought him safely to jail.

It is understood the wife will not prosecute him and he will probably be released in a day or two.

A new fence around the home of Mrs. Finch and Miss Susanna Sedgwick is going to beautify the place very much.

Ely Erhart went to Johnstown to a hospital last week for the purpose of having a limb amputated. Up to Saturday the operation was not performed and we are not able to say anything further at present. Mr. Erhart has been suffering from a broken limb all spring and we believe owing to the condition of the bone it was not able to grow together or to heal. We sincerely hope he may be benefitted by the operation even though he loses a limb.

Mrs. Wilson is at present stopping with her daughter, Mrs. Jason Underwood.

A recent letter from Mrs G. H. Kellogg, formerly Miss Sarah Fisher, of this place, who is now residing at a mining town in the Rockey mountains, states that they still have from two to three feet of snow there and frequent snow storms. Mr. Kellogg with other men as partners, is operating the "Chloride gold mine" which at present bids fair to be a success, though the deep snows have very much retarded the process of getting the ore from the mine to the smelters. No gardens are made or anything planted in that country for they have frost the whole year round, though the people fill up their windows with beautiful blooming geraniums and other pot plants. To one going from a milder atmosphere the change must be a very unpleasant one; they would so much miss the delightful summer time. Mrs. Kellogg thought if she only had wings she could fly home when apple trees were in bloom.

George Snyder and lady friend of Mill Hall, spent Saturday evening at the home of his mother.

The station at this place has been newly plastered, which gives a very neat appearance.

That D. W. McCloskey says he enjoys a good mess of eels better than some people enjoy the summer.

We are always glad to hear from Runville. I suppose the cause of no news from that place last week was that the scribe was out at Pumpkin hill looking for huckleberries; come down and see us. I am always at home only on wash days then I slip off to get rid of carrying wash water and running errands.

Edna Murray was a Tyrone visitor this week.

D. W. McCloskey and wife of this place, while on their way to Plum Grove to work in their garden came in contact with a large black snake which set up fight; the old man having spent most of his life in the Allegheny mountains soon slayed the reptile which measured 6 ft, 9 inches in length.

Frank Young, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday among friends in this place.

Mrs. Lizzie Loder, of Howard, spent part of this week at the home of John A. Thompson.

James Thompson and Miss Edith Walker, of Snow Shoe, spent Sunday at the home of John A. Thompson.

Lloyd Lewis was a Bellefonte caller this week.

Mrs. John Smith and sister were shopping in Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Ralph McLaughlin, who has been working at Zion for some time, was home over Sunday.

Mrs. Elsie Johnson, of near Jacksonville, visited at the home of her parents, D. W. McCloskey, over Sunday.

The party that was to leave this place for an outing in the Allegheny mountains on Monday has been postponed for the present, but will go some time in June.

If you want to know when summer commences ask Anna.

Furst says he is going to quit working in the mine and go to farming.

The social held at Thompson's on Saturday evening was a success. They cleared between $16 and $17.

The three Misses Cobbles, of Altoona, who are clerks in a large department store there, spent last Sunday with Mrs. Mary Woomer.

Frank Murphy, wife and family, of Tyrone, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Lytle.

Alfred Irvin and brother Arthur were in our town over Sunday.

There were quite a number of people in our county capitol last Tuesday to see the sad affair at the jail yard. But by the looks of some of them they should never venture in to such a sight. No one is any better afterwards in viewing a sight like that.

T. A. Ardell seemed to be enjoying himself on last Sunday. We don't know the attraction?

The U. B. church will hold a festival in the hall on May 26 and 27, where ice cream and cake will be served Proceeds to repair the church All are invited.

Charles Murray, the division foreman attended religious service in Bellefonte on Sunday,

D. N. Bodle is building a wall for his new kitchen.

There will be services in the U. B. church on Sunday evening at 7:30. All are invited.

Special attention is again called to our citizens to look after the graves of their friends before Decoration day, which will be the 30th day of May Meet at the several churches at 9 o'clock and proceed to the cemetery. All business places should be closed and flags placed on the buildings. Be patriotic, don't let business cares neglect this great duty.

Anyone wishing to donate anything to the repairs of the cemetery will be gladly received by Ira F. Davis manager who has attended to this for over 30 years. Don't be tight, but contribute to this good cause.

There will be young peoples choir practice in the U. B. church on Saturday evening. Try and all be out.

DESTROYER OF MOLLIES.

Hero of Coal Region War Lived to Ripe Old Age.

The death a week ago of Captain Thomas Alderson, of Devil's Lake, N. D., removed one of the few surviving figures of the bloody Mollie Maguire rebellion in the anthracite region. Alderson was chief of the Reading Coal & Iron police, and in his campaign against the Mollies he co-operated with James McParlan, the famous detective whose discoveries resulted in six hangings in one day at Pottsville. McParlan, like Alderson, was scores of times threatened with assassination, but he is still living in the West and is hale and prosperous.

Another prominent man who was connected with the destruction of the Mollie Maguires was Guy E. Farquhar, of Pottsville. He was prosecutor in many of the cases against the murderers, and he, too, survived all their threats of assassination. He still lives at Pottsville, and is the Nestor of the Schuylkill bar.

Captain Alderson, who held his office until 1887, was credited with having made the suggestion to President Franklin B. Gowen, of the Reading, that Allan Pinkerton be employed to expose the Mollies. It was the result of the calling in of Pinkerton's men that McParlan, who became widely known through the anthracite region as "James McKenna," became an actor in the terrible tragedy.

It was in February, 1876, that Captain Alderson's most delicate work against the Mollies was accomplished. By that time, after his long residence in the coal region, suspicion had been aroused as to the true identity of McParlan, and it was necessary to guard him with the greatest vigilance for fear he should be murdered and all the results of the investigation during the past years be lost.

The men who had so long carried the affairs of the county with a high hand were now in a state of demoralization. They apparently realized that they were at the end of their career. The prison and the gallows loomed up before them. They were determined to destroy all evidence of their criminal acts. The books and papers of the society were burned and it was resolved to murder McParlan. A letter was sent to the detective from police headquarters in order to deceive the Mollies. McParlan had all along pretended to be a fugative from justice, but to be on friendly terms with Alderson and Captain Linden, who were protecting him. The letter advised him to flee. McParlan received and opened it among a crowd of Mollies.

"I'll not budge one single inch, to save them all from perdition," exclaimed the detective after reading the letter aloud to the crowd. "I am innocent. I'll only be arrested, anyhow. An' if others stand by, why shouldn't I?"

The Mollies applauded him, for the exhibition of mock courage. They would have acted in an entirely different manner had they known that warrants had already been sworn out for their arrest.

But the suspicion of the detective could not be allayed. Plots were laid to kill him and throw his body down a deserted mine shaft, where it would never be found. Dennis Dowling, a burly Mollie, was then designated to kill McParlan, but all these plans were frustrated by Captain Alderson.

The summary of the work of Captain Alderson, and those who were associated with him, shows that twelve Mollies were found guilty of murder in the first degree; four of murder in the second degree; four of being accessory to murder, six of perjury, in establishing the familiar alibi, and many others for assault and battery. Eleven of these men were hanged. This is a record it is believed few officers of the law can equal.

A Pleasant Social Affair.

On Saturday evening the W. C. T. U. rooms were brilliantly lighted and those passing looked inquiringly at the room full of women doubtless wondering what was going on. Within, a goodly number perhaps some fifty of our representative women and young ladies were being presented to Mrs. Cora E. Seberry, of Brooklyn, N. Y. the National Superintendent of "Y" work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. To the initiated "Y" stands for young women's Union, of which there are 713 local unions with a paid membership of 11,618. Mrs. Seberry whose charming personality captivated her hearers, gave a short practical talk and recited a poem, entitled "The creeds of the bells." She is a fine elocutionist, throwing her whole soul into the work and she vividly portrayed the creeds of the various churches, through the tones of their bells. Mrs. Meyers rendered a solo in her usual gracious and obliging manner, and after light refreshments served by the young ladies and a pleasant social time the meeting closed.

Millions of Money, Millions

The way the Standard Oil Co. made their millions was by selling us coal oil. Every time we consume a gallon of coal oil we add to their millions. They have a net profit of over 100 per cent. on every gollon of oil we consume. Electric light and city gas are both sold at over 100 per cent. clear profit. If you buy a and make your own light, which is a beautiful, soft white light, and only costs about one-third as much as city gas or electric light It is cheaper than coal oil. The Sunlight "Omega" light machine works automatically, no trouble and so simple to operate that anyone can learn how to make the light in ten minutes. If you live in the country, city or town you can have light that is better, purer, cheaper, less dangerous and less troublesome than any light in existance.

Sunlight "Omega" Acetylene Light Machine

Acetylene Fixtures, Chandeliers. etc., furnished at cost. Any church in my district who will light with acetylene, can have a contribution from me of 10 per cent. of their machine. Inquiries promptly answered, correspondence solicited, estimates furnished upon application.

Unslacked Lime Used in Catching Trout.

Fishermen are bringing tidings to Williamsport says the Gazette and Bulletin of the killing of trout in some of the streams by the explosion of bottles and boxes filled with unslacked lime. It is believed the unlawful method of catching the gamey fish is being done by foreigners.

Lime is utilized instead of dynamite in the water to avoid a noise that might attract people not desired by the poachers to the scene. The methods resorted to by the violaters of the law is to place the bottles in holes supposed to be frequented by the trout. When the water enters the bottles or other receptacles the lime begins to slack and soon the bottle or whatever it is in breaks open, causing a violent concussion under the water.

All the trout in the vicinity are usually stunned and soon rise to the surface. The fish that escape death from concussion are very often affected and killed by the lime water if once it enters the gills. For a week or more constables have endeavored to catch some of the alleged offenders along the streams where it has been known the liming practice has been resorted to.

A well known sportsman made the prediction on Wednesday night that some of the creeks in this and adjoining counties will be depopulated of trout within a year if the use of lime is not stopped

Farm Help Scarce.

An exchange in a neighboring county has the following to say on the scarcity of farm help. Just to what extent these conditions exist in this locality we are not prepared to say The supply of good farm hands has been smaller than the demand, but the last few years labor of this sort has been unusually scarce, the condition of business along industrial lines taking away from the farms a greater number of young men than usual. This spring the scarcity of farm help is more pronounced than last, and a number of owners of large agricultural properties have been obliged to engage foreigners to assist them in their spring work. Wages on the farm run from $6 to $18 a month, including board. Boys from twelve to fourteen years of age are paid the former sum Wages are increased according to the strength and skill of the laborer. In nearly every agricultural community there are a few hired men on farms who have been so valuable to their employers that their wages have been increased from $20 to $25 a month, with the privilege of using a team and many other extras thrown in. About sixty per cent. of the hired help of the farm begin work in April and quit in December.

Miners Could not get Their Monthly Pay.

Saturday was pay day at the Rochester and Pittsburg Coal and Coke company's mines at Eleanora, but the safe was locked and the combination would not work, and the pay rolls, checks and cash were inside. Hundreds of miners were coming to the little pay window for their cash, but were told to call Monday as the safe had gone wrong, and as soon as the man who was on his knees working at the combination lock could get the safe open the rolls would would be checked up and they would be paid. Some of the foreign miners grumbled, while others just looked sullenly at the safe lock expert working hit way through the powerful Marvin safe door, which was done very neatly in the course of an hour by the expert from Clearfield, Capt. J. E. Harder, who had been wired for the night before. While Harder was in the company's office at Punxsutawney waiting for transportation to their Eleanora office he worked out the combination of the big vault doorlock which refused to do its duty and proved to the R. & P., officials that he knows the safe lock business as no other man does.

The profit of a gold mine depends, not on the amount of rock crushed under the stamps but upon the amount of gold which can be extracted from the rock. In a similar way the value of the food which is eaten does not depend on the quanity which is taken into the stomach but upon the amount of nourishment extracted from it by the organs of nutrition and digestion. When these organs are diseased they fail to extract the nourishment in sufficient quantities to supply the needs of the several organs of the body, and these organs cannot work without nourishment. The result is heart "trouble" liver "trouble" and many another ailment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acting on every organ of the digestive and nutritive system restores it to health and vigor, It cures diseases remote from the stomach in which they orfginated. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

A Simple Remedy for Acquiring Hard Muscles and a Sound Body.

A number 12 bore gun when loaded with three drams of powder will send a load of shot further and shoot harder than if double this amount of powder is used.

If too much powder is used, all of it will not explode until it leaves the muzzle of the gun.

That portion which does not explode at the proper time, interferes with the direction, and checks the velocity or force of the shot.

Hard muscles and a strong body do not depend on the quantity of food, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation.

If the nutrient properties of all of the food that may be eaten are appropriated by the blood and tissues, the muscles of the body will grow harder and stronger, whether you eat much or little.

You may be well, but not strong. What you want is strength,—physical force.

You do not have to be sick to need Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.

Thousands of men and millions of women have need for just what Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will do for them.

A little Kodol after meals, will enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate every atom of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten.

It will do more.

It will enable the stomach to extract from the food all its nutrient properties, and contribute the same to the blood.

It will enable the blood to circulate freely and deposit a full quota of this tissue-building and strength-giving material into every nook, corner, muscle and fibre of your whole being.

The result is perfect strength.

And perfect health.

Disease cannot lay hold on the man or woman whose physical condition is thus fortified. Recommended by Green's Pharmacy Co.

THE FIRST LESSON

That the young girl has of womanhood is not seldom a painful one. She learns to know what headache means, and backache, and sometimes is sadly borne down by this new experience of life.

All the pain and misery which young girls commonly experience at such a time, may in almost every instance be entirely prevented or cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity. It tones up the general health, and cures headache, backache, nervousness and other consequences of womanly weakness or disease.

"I received your letter some time ago, with advice about your wonderful medicine," writes Miss Stella Johnson, of 28 Brady Street, Dayton, Ohio. "I was troubled with severe pains every month when I wrote to you for advice. After receiving your letter and following its directions, I am now happy to say that after five years of untold suffering I have not had any pains since first using your 'Favorite Prescription.' I was induced through a friend to write to you and follow your kind advice. I thank God and Dr. R. V. Pierce for the health I now enjoy. I shall urge other women who suffer as I did to use your medicine."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

100 DEAD IN TORNADO!

Town of Snyder, Oklahoma, in Storm's Pathway.

MANY PEOPLE MISSING

Relief Going from Many Towns But Conditions are Still Very Serious —Eighty Five Bodies Recovered.

THE TORNADO FOLLOWED BY FIRE

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—The death list of last night's tornado at Snyder will probably exceed one hundred persons. Eighty-five bodies have been recovered, a dozen persons are missing and given up for dead of the forty-one seriously wounded several are likely to die. More than one hundred other persons suffered less severe injuries.

Relief is going from neighboring towns. Oklahoma City sent one hundred men to dig graves and seek the dead still in the ruins, and a dozen undertakers with one hundred coffins. Offers of financial assistance have come from numerous cities. Governor Ferguson, of Oklahoma, has issued a proclamation calling attention to the needs of the stricken town.

It is difficult to obtain information from Snyder. A single telegraph wire furnishes an outlet, but it is besieged with private messages concerning the dead and injured.

To add to the general confusion and distress after the tornado had passed fire broke out and burned up all that remained of the buildings in one of the business blocks. So far it has not been possible to find out whether any bodies have been cremated, but it is possible such is the case.

An unidentified woman was picked up dead, having been pinioned to the ground by a long sliver, which entered her left eye and came out through the back of her head. Clarence Donovan, a railroad engineer, and Miss Nina Fessenden, were to have been married Wednesday night, but had just postponed the nuptials until this morning. Both were instantly killed by the storm.

Fred Crump, a boy, had started to a cellar when a flying timber decapitated him. Debris was carried northward as far as Coopertown, twelve miles, and it is reported that these are more fragments at that town than in the tornado path at Snyder.

About seventy-five head of horses and cattle were killed at Snyder. A committee this morning began to remove carcasses.

The mayor of Snyder is having much trouble arranging for the burial of the dead. The confusion is great, owing to the fact that there are a number of unidentified bodies at the morgue. There is much suffering owing to lack of provisions and places to stay. What houses remain in the town are in bad condition and are unsafe for habitation. Besides there is not enough to care for the homeless. Bedding and wearing apparel are both needed.

Many of the wounded could not be cared for or given medical aid until 9 o'clock this morning, and by that time their wounds were aggravated.

It is believed that twenty per cent. of the wounded will die.

Tornado Kills Twenty-Six.

Marquette, Kan., May 12.—Twenty-six lives have been lost in the tornado that wrecked part of Marquette and did much damage in this vicinity, and 44 persons have been injured. Of the injured 35 were seriously hurt and some of them may die. During the day Carl Vernquist and Mrs. J. A. Carlson died of their injuries. Several of the others are suffering from broken limbs and internal injuries.

In several cases entire families have been killed. A man named Switzer, a night watchman at the railroad yards, lost his three children. N. P. Nelson, with his wife and three children, were found dead. Two other children were not at home and escaped injury.

Order has practically been brought out of the chaotic conditions that prevailed, and a relief committee has begun dispensing aid. Among the relief sent from outside were 25 pupils from Bethany College, who acted as nurses.

When e'er you feel impending ill,
And need a magic little pill,
No other one will fill the bill
Like DeWitt's Little Early Risers.

The Famous Little Pills EARLY RISERS cure Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, etc. They never gripe or sicken, but impart early rising energy. Good for either children or adults. J. C. P. Jones, Chief Burgess, Milesburg Borough, Pa says: "I never used pills in my family during the forty years of housekeeping, that gave such satisfactory results as DeWitt's Little Early Risers." FUNERAL OF IRA GREEN.

Unfortunate Young Man Laid to Rest—Many Attend the Services.

The funeral of Ira Green, the unfortunate young man who was executed in the jail yard on May 9, took place Thursday May 11, at 9:30 a. m. from his home at Gum Stump. Hundreds of people from the surrounding country were in attendance and you could see by the sorrowing faces that their deepest sympathies were aroused for the bereaved family. The remains of Green reposed in a neat black casket and on the lid were several beautiful floral offerings, The features of the dead man were as natural as in life and a pleasant smile seemed to hover about his face as if he was only asleep.

The services were sad and impressive in that humble, sorrowing home this morning. Rev. W. B. Cox, the young man's spiritual adviser in his last days, conducted the services and preached a touching sermon. His text was from Luke 23rd chapter and part of the 28th verse "Weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children." When he finished everyone present was in tears. Several hymns were sung, prayer was offered and then the funeral procession started.

The cemetery association where Green's parents desired to bury him, refused to admit the body and the nearly distracted father was at loss what to do until Charles Lucas, of Wallace Run offered him a piece of ground on his farm. The lot is 16 feet square and is situated just on top of the divide, just off the road leading from Runville to Marsh Creek.

To this spot the solemn funeral procession wended its way. The pall-bearers were Milliken Lucas, Clayton Walker, James Fetzer, Claude Poorman, Howard Watson and Roy Eckley.

Undertaker F. L. Wetzler, of Milesburg, was the funeral conductor.

The sorrowing parents, relatives and friends gathered around the grave. Rev. Cox made a prayer and pronounced the benediction and all that was mortal of Ira Green was consigned to the dust from whence it came.

Lock Haven People Nervous at the Bellefonte Execution.

About 30 persons from this city witnessed the execution of Green and Dillen at Bellefonte May 9, and most of them have had their curiosity fully satisfied. C. H. Myers had a permit to enter the jail yard, but he decided that he would rather see it through the stone wall and discreetly remained outside. Most of the spectators were nervous and the newspaper men from this city were not entirely calm and collected. C. E. Oberheim had a sickish feeling about the stomach, and Frank Harvey, the official timekeeper for the Express and Democrat forces, shook so violently that the rattling of his watch chain could be heard quite a distance away. Harry Weindorf, the Express reporter, found himself slowly sinking to the ground about 10 minutes after the drop fell and took no further interest in what transpired for a few minutes. A physician and some cold water on his head set him to rights.

Chas. M. Robb got in a hurry to get as far out of town as possible and took the first train out. He forget to get off at Milesburg and was carried through to Tyrone. But he got here at 9.15 last night.

Frank Harder was fuming around on Monday trying to get a pass and seemed very anxious to go. He got one Tuesday morning but decided he didn't want to go after all.—Lock Haven Express.

Mail Order Houses.

A Wellsboro man recently sent to a Chicago mail order house for 25 pounds of sugar. It arrived in good shape, but the freight charges on it were 72 cents. Here's another true story. A number of Charleston farmers made up a big order for groceries, etc. from a large mail order house. One of the men, wishing doubtless to be prepared for the coming potato bug crop, ordered a large quantity of Paris green to be forwarded with the other goods. When the stuff arrived the case was broken and the contents were ruined, the Paris green having been well mixed with the provisions. Can you read the moral of these true tales? Here it is in brief: Patronize local merchants and get a "square deal."

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison, (Kan.,) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office to-day, we asked him about it. He says he had terrible pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its original pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

A Moonlight Picnic.

A moonlight picnic was given in honor of Misses Mary Hendershot and Edna Thomas Tuesday May 9th at Hunters Park and before leaving they drove through town with Edna Thomas, Mary Hendershot, Boyd Cox and Fred Waite in the lead, in a spring wagon followed by William Rhinesmith with the hay ladder load back and two other teams While going through the Diamond of the town they took the crowd from cheap John. Mary Hendershot Fred Waite. Edna Thomas and Boyd Cox gave a cake walk, while James Bailey fiddled for them. They all had a grand time and returned home just before daylight in the morning The party was made up as follows:

Misses Elsie Hendershot, Mary Hendershot, Edna Thomas, Lula Housel, Kate Royer, Kate Daley, Mary Clark, Sadie Kelley, Nettie Springer, Clara Shields, Maud Miller, Blanch Sharp, Bella Clark and Siss Rice. Messrs. Paul Sniter, Sid McQuay, Fred Gehret, Eddie Kane, Harry Thompson, Geo. Miller, Ralph Moeschbacher, Nip Smith, James Lose, Fred Landis, Boyd Cox, Henry Young, Joe. Mountain Railroad Car Did Loop the Gap Act.

A car on M. H Stebbins' railroad, leading up the steep mountainside to his big quarry not far west of Galeton, did recently a "loop the gap' act.

The road is worked on the gravity system, the descending loaded car pulling the empty one back up the hill. A loaded car when at the middle of the grade broke in the coupling and, with eight tons of stone, darted down the track like the fall of a pile driver. At the end of the switch the car left the track, shot through the air, clearing the wagon road and the bank of Pine creek, and finally fetching up in the middle of the creek, 200 feet from the point where it started its leap.

The stones were buried as from a mighty catapault clear into the far bank of the stream. The car was a wreck, nothing being left but the draw head.

Farm Coming Back to Its Own.

Things on the farm are changing, and we already observe, if we watch the barometer of social life, that there is a tendency to get back to the country. Fifteen years ago, for instance, less than 50 per cent of the population were moving countryward; in 1900 the statistics show that 70 per cent were seeking out homes in rural districts, and it is likely that the population now going away from the city reaches 75 per cent At last, with Solomon, they are discovering that "all is vanity" in the cities; that friendships are difficult, that neighbors don't know the names of the other, that noise, dirt, confusion are there, and the struggle to live is at the desperate stage all the time.

The telephone, the trolley line, free rural mail delivery—these are mitigating the unsocial side of rural life, and the beauty of nature is doing the rest. Opportunity.

Chemical Pie.

"A lemon pie selected from the stock of a large bakery in Chicago was analyzed and found to contain no lemon, butter or eggs. It was a combination of starch, paste and various coal tar products. Pie like mother used to make is not on the market."

This pie was fortunate in containing starch. Ordinarily starch is too good a substance for these impure concoctions. Sea moss or any old weed is made to take its place. From this same sea moss, which has no nutritious element, its only virtue being that it is not poisonous, is is made of a gelatinous substance known as aga-aga. With aga-aga as a basis, a skilled hand with flavoring extracts and coal tar dyes will, magic-like, turn the public out any jelly, preserves, catsup, fruit juice or pie known to the world.

Traveling Is Dangerous,

Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers, trainmen, street car men, teamsters and all who drive very much, suffer from kidney disease in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder disease. Geo. E. Hausan, locomotive engineer, Lima, O., writes, "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Electric Ears for Ships,

Ships will soon have ears—ears that will hear the approach of a torpedo boat that the captain cannot see or that will hear the sound of the fog bell or the waves beating against a dangerous rock on a stormy night. These electrical ears are more sensitive than human ears, because the sounds they will hear are sounds which travel under water, a medium which transmits sound better than air. It is this superiority of the water as a sound transmitter that has brought about the new invention.

—Foley's Honey and Tar is peculiarly adapted for asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

21st BIRTHDAY.

Celebration in Honor of J. Homer Decker, of Pine Grove Mills.

The 21st birthday of Mr Homer Decker, of Pine Grove Mills, will be long remembered by those so fortunate as to be present at the surprise party given in his honor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs J. A Decker on Monday evening May 8th. The house was beautifully decorated and the tables loaded with al the delicacies of the season. Over one hundred people were waiting when Homer returned home, completely surprised by this gathering in his honor. The evening was well spent. There was plenty of music, and some political arguments. Several able speeches were made, among the speakers being Dr. G. H. Woods, Prof Gerhard, Prof. W. W. Keller, Prof. M. E. Heberling, Daniel Johnson, John Fry and Alexander McCoy.

Graysville and Baileyville were well represented at the gathering. Some from Graysville were Ed Woomer and sister. Anna Deter, Gertrude Henry and brother and John Everhart.

Alexander McCoy and Miss Alice Decker from Potters Mills were present also.

After supper Mr. Decker made a very able speech thanking everbody for honor shown and for the many valuable presents.

The following is the list of guests in attendance:

Uncle Sam Loans His Soldiers to John Robinson.

The John Robinson Shows are billed for two performances on Monday, May 22, at Bellefonte, and the advance couriers tell of an augmentation to their usual excellent program in the shape of two companies of U. S. cavalry from the world's greatest military riding school at Fort Riley, Kansas. These dare-devil riders have astounded the world with their remarkable exhibition of horsemanship, and their addition to the usual excellent offering of this father of shows was only accomplished after much red tape and a strong pull with the military heads of Uncle Sam's army. Within the past few years the riding of the soldiers of the regular army in this country has been brought to such a perfection that the oldest of the successful circus riders have been apprehensive of their laurels, and the coming of the show will afford an opportunity to witness the daily contests between the favorites of the sawdust arena and the daring soldier boys in blue.

These hardy fighters scorn the use of tights and riding shoes, and clad in their regulation uniform, with heavy army boots, they perform with daring ease and consummate skill every remarkable feat of horsemanship known to modern and ancient riding.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—A valuable horse belonging to the Palace livery died Saturday morning of colic.

—The Bellefonte Hospital appropriation was signed by the Governor for $5,000, a cut of $1,000.

—Clement Dale Esq., of Bellefonte, has been selected this year to deliver the Memorial Day oration at Pine Grove Mills.

—The new state police force will give one man to every 226 square miles. Highwaymen will govern themselves accordingly.

—The new section of the Union cemetery is now open and those desiring lots can see the chart at Gen. Beaver's office in the Masonic Temple.

—Miss Marie White has resigned her position in the office of J. A. B. Miller Esq., to accept a similar position as Stenographer for the Bellefonte Furnace company.

—The Daily and Weekly Searchlight of DuBois, has suspended publication. Their subscription list was purchased by the Daily Courier. This still leaves three daily papers in DuBois.

—Mr. H. E. Fenlon, who the past 20 years has been the head clerk at the Bush House, has bought out the insurance agencies of Frederick K. Foster and Wm. Burnside and will embark in a general insurance business.

—H. S. Ray has given up the idea of running an automobile from the trains to his hotel and has gone back to the old reliable 'bus. Last Friday he went to Williamsport and traded his old machine on a modern run-about Cadilac.

—R. S. Brouse, Harry F. Gerberich, Benton Tate and John L. Knisely made a quartette of fishermen who spent Wednesday afternoon and Thursday on a trip to Fishing creek. Of course they didn't come home with empty baskets.

—George F. Stevenson, who was born, raised and lived all his life up Buffalo run, recently sold off all his stock and goods and on Wednesday, with his family, departed for Woodland, Clearfield county, where he will make his future home.

—Harry Green spent a pleasant day Friday along the excellent trout streams at Paddy mountains. Although some fishermen are inclined to exaggerate after a hard days tramp, we believe when Harry said he had 30 he is telling the truth for he had almost a basket full.

—In relation to the hanging in Bellefonte Tuesday, the Lock Haven Express speaks as follows: "So ends the closing chapter in the lives of these two unfortunate young men. The case has attracted wide spread attention and many persons believed that the execution was an outrage and that someone will have to answer before the final judgment for the taking of these two young lives."

—Buy your shoe laces from William Doak, better known to his friends as deaf and blind William. He has just received a fine lot of shoe laces, which he sells at 5 cents a pair and two pair for 5 cents, and to earn an honest living he offers such small articles. When in need of shoe laces he can sell them to you by the dozen or by the pair and he will greatly appreciate any help you give him.

—The re-convened democratic county convention met in the Court House Friday with Col. J. L. Spangler presiding. The only business transacted was the electing of delegates to the state convention which meets in Harrisburg, Wednesday, May 24th. The following were chosen delegates: William C. Heinle, of Bellefonte; W. B. Mingle, of Centre Hall; L. B. Frank, of Reberburg, and W. E. Frank, of Philipsburg.

—"The House of the Black Ring," published by Henry Holt and company, of New York city, is another novel in which people of this community will be particularly interested. It is from the pen of Prof. F. L. Pattee, of The Pennsylvania State College, and deals with a mysterious cabin home in the heart of the Seven mountains. It is a quaint story of romance and adventure founded on facts that are known to everyone in this section.

—One day last week Johnny Fry, of Jackson township, Perry county, had a sick horse which he thought was sure to die, so in the evening Johnny, who is of an economical turn of mind, drew off the shoes as the horse was stretched out, apparently in its last agonies, and then retired for the night. Imagine his surprise the next morning on going to the stable to find the horse on his feet eating hay and whinnying for his breakfast. After breakfast the village blacksmith had a job to do for Johnny.

—General Jas. A. Beaver, of Bellefonte will make the Memorial Day address at Gettysburg.

—W. Harrison Walker, Esq., has been chosen to deliver the Memorial Day address in Bellefonte.

—The town that fosters its own industries and encourages the location of others is the one that forges ahead in material prosperity.

—T. W. Evans, of Jersey Shore, has been appointed assistant superintendent of the Pennsylvania division of the New York Central railroad.

—Croakers, scoffers and faultfinders never built up a town, and never will. Every town has them, but any town would be better off without them.

—Although the "All Stars" were defeated Tuesday by the State College team by a score of 16 to 4, they have not been discouraged and will soon appear again.

—J. M. Payne, 24 years old, a Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, was struck by a train near Lewistown, and died while being taken to the Altoona hospital.

—Traffic on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania was very brisk Sunday two solid freight trains being taken to the Bellefonte furnaces. It required four engines to transport them, —The Harbison Walker Refractories company is erecting at Mount Union, Huntingdon county, the largest fire brick manufactory in the world. It will have a capacity of 80,000 bricks a day.

—Some of our readers may be survivors of the Ninth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteer cavalry. If so, they will be interested in knowing that the 36th annual re-union will be held in Altoona on June 8th.

—Mrs. Amos Mullen underwent a very serious but successful operation on Wednesday, May 10. It was performed by Dr. Vischer, of Philadelphia, and we are glad to say was very successful. She is reported as getting along very nicely.

—The Forty Hour Devotion service closed in the Catholic church Tuesday evening, May 9th. Father McArdle was assisted in these services by Fathers Zarek and Cochran, of Snow Shoe; Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renova.

—Willis Musser, of Millheim, has the contract to furnish and deliver along the line from Bellefonte to State College five hundred poles for the Pennsylvania Telephone company. He is now at work with a crew of ten men getting out the poles.

—The ten dollar prize offered by Mr. J. C. Meyer to that member of the Senior class of the B. H. S., who writes the best three biographical essays was awarded on Thursday to Miss Louisa Brachbill. The essays written by Lloyd Markle, also received honorable mention.

—Many of our readers have forgotten it, but it is a fact, never-the-less, that the Hospital corp of the 5th Regiment N. G. P., is now located at Bellefonte. The ambulance was taken over to McQuistion's carriage works Monday night to be thoroughly overhauled and re-painted preparatory to going to camp this summer.

—The General Synod of the Reformed church in the United States will meet in triennial session in Allentown, Pa., May 16, 1905. Rev. A. A. Black of Boalsburg, Pa., Elders, Jared Harper of Bellefonte, Pa., and John Hoy Jr., of Hublersburg are three of the four delegates who will be in attendance at this meeting from the West Susquehanna Classics.

—What has become of the Village Improvement society which a few years ago were doing a good work? Our streets, gutters and side alleys are in a bad condition. It is to be hoped that an early spring cleaning will be consummated, in many sections of the town, thus warding off diseases. Do not wait for the spring rains to do it, but get at the work now.

—The following statistics for the year 1904 of the Bellefonte Hospital direct from the Superintendent, Miss Frances Bescherer will be read with interest by our subscribers. Number of patients 101; number of free patients 34; Patients who paid in part 4; patients who paid in full 63; a daily average of 5 patients, the cost per day was $1.88. The rates are $7.00 per week for ward patients, $10 and $15 for private rooms.

—According to the Lewistown Sentinel shad in large numbers have been seined from the river at Van Dyke. That was a shad seining place two generations ago, so old people long ago used to say. The shad were excluded from the Juniata river many years ago by the canal dams that were constructed in the stream, but now that the dams are out the fish have returned. The shad frequent the old seining places as they did many years ago.

—On last Friday morning Assistant Chief of Police Charles M. McMullen, of Philipsburg, brought to Bellefonte J. E. Stover whom he had arrested at DuBois on Thursday on a warrant issued from Bellefonte. Stover was charged with larceny and burglary in connection with the Eby matter ventilated in the recent session of our county court. The man declares he knows nothing of the crime, and was perfectly willing to be taken. He has a wife and child in DuBois.

—Fresh Eggs at The Creamery Store.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Jodon are all smiles Saturday over the arrival a bouncing baby—girl

—William Burnside is confined to the Bellefonte hospital with an affliction of the throat. His many friends will be sorry to hear of his illness and hope for his speedy recovery.

Married.—Watson-Shaw, on May 9, 1905, at Presbyterian parsonage, Kylertown, Pa., by Rev. R. G. Williams. Mr. George B. Watson, and Miss Margaret Shaw, both of Snow Shoe. Our congratulations and best wishes.

—The fish wardens are active and keeping a sharp watch on the streams of Centre county. All persons caught violating any of the provisions of the fish law are summarily dealt with. The wardens do not reveal the names of those who are caught offending the law when the fines are paid to them.

—The Union Teachers' meeting will be held next Tuesday evening in St. John's Reformed church at 7:30 sharp. Until further notice these meetings will be held in this church every Tuesday evening. All persons interested in Bible study are cordially invited.

—The Ladies Mite Society of the Presbyterian church will conduct an exchange Saturday, May 20, from 2 until 6 o'clock p. m. in a section of P. D. Sheffer's grocery store where all kinds of fine cakes, candies, buns, etc., will be on sale. Orders will be taken by Miss Jane Furst not later than Thursday evening.

—The DuBois Morning Journal was one year old Tuesday, May 16, and celebrated the event by printing a sixteen page edition. The paper has met with marked success during the year, but this is no surprise when we think of the excellent character it has maintained. The paper is one of the neatest and newsiest inland dailies in the State.

—Thirty-first convention of the Centre County Sabbath School Association will be held at Millheim Wednesday and Thursday, May 31st and June 1st. Speakers from abroad will be present at all sessions. An attractive program is prepared. An interesting meeting, profitable for instruction, will be enjoyed by all in attendance.

—Frank T. Kerns has opened up his new City Laundry in the building formerly occupied by J. A. Finkbinder on North Water Street. He has had the building thoroughly cleaned, refitted and fixed up in apple-pie order. Frank is a first class laundryman and can do good work and we have no doubt he will receive a large share of the public's patronage.

—The preparations for the Academy centennial are progressing rapidly. It will be held June 15 and 16 and will be an event of great importance in this town. A general invitation will be given through the newspapers for the public to attend and the program will be published in a few weeks. The improvements to the grounds are nearing completion and the old Academy will present a beautiful appearance when its one hundreth anniversary takes place.

—To encourage the planting of trees the Governor signed the bill allowing a rebate of eighty per cent. in the taxes on land on which there shall be planted forest or timber trees of not less than three hundred to an acre for a period of thirty-five years, provided the rebate does not amount to more than forty-five cents an acre. The period of exemption is counted from the time the lands have been planted. The act does not exempt more than five hundred acres of land owned by any one person or corporation.

—Two hundred engineers will be added to the force of the Pennsylvania railroad within the next 30 days. This is necessary because of the large number of locomotives to be added to its equipment within the next three months. General Manager W. W. Atterbury has ordered examinations to be held on each division as soon as possible, and every firemen entitled to promotion will be ordered up for tests. A committee of three expert engineers has been appointed on each division to conduct the examination and all applicants must make an average of 75 per cent. before they are advanced.

—A trespass suit is now before the Blair county court in which Dr. Henry L. Hartzell and wife seek to recover $10,000 from the Pennsylvania Railroad company. Dr. Hartzell and wife are the owners of a forty-one acre tract of land in Antis township, on the northwestern side of the railroad. They allege that up until 1902 they had the advantage of a public highway leading from Altoona to Tyrone, which public road was used and enjoyed by the public for over 50 years. Plaintiffs traveled over this road to reach the postoffice, church, public schools, market and the larger towns. It is further alleged that the company built a freight classification yard, making a fill of earth and stone to the height of 75 feet, closing up this highway, and thus compelling plaintiff to travel three miles out of his way to get away from his farm. It is alleged that the farm is greatly reduced in value in consequence thereof. The attorneys are A. V. Dively for plaintiff; Neff, Riley and Hicks for the company.

GILBERT HAVEN WOOD.

Called to the Spirit Land at Dawning of a Brilliant Career.

Wednesday the sad intelligence reached Bellefonte of the death of Gilbert Haven Wood, son of Rev. J. A. Wood Jr., pastor of the Methodist church of this city. Gilbert Wood was a student in the dental department at the University of Pennsylvania. About a week ago he was taken ill with typhoid fever and his mother hastened to his bedside. Sunday a complication of diseases set in and his father was sent for reaching his bedside Monday afternoon.

This is the first death in Rev. Wood's family and the bereaved parents certainly have the deepest sympathy of the entire community in their affliction.

The remains of Gilbert Wood arrived in Bellefonte Thursday afternoon at 4:44 and were taken to the Methodist parsonage on East Linn street. They were accompanied by the grief stricken parents who were with the young man at his bedside when he passed away Wednesday morning at 12:15 in the Presbyterian hospital at Philadelphia. Death was due to typhoid fever, brought on by overwork, as previously stated in this paper.

Gilbert Haven Wood was the second son of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Wood, Jr., and was born in Lewisberry, Pa., November 10, 1881, making his age just 23 years and six months. From childhood up he was an exceptional bright boy and possessed of one of the loveliest dispositions imaginable. He graduated from High school, then entered Dickinson Seminary in Williamsport where he graduated with honor. After taking a one year course in dentistry in the University of Southern California, he entered the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania and completed the four years course. He was just taking a Post Graduate course when sickness overtook him and death ended what would have been a brilliant career.

In his college life he was always in the front rank in whatever he undertook whether it was studies, athletics or Christian work. He was converted when a student at Dickinson Seminary and was an active worker in the Y. M. C. A., at the University of Pennsylvania. In addition to this he would go down into the slums of Philadelphia and hold Sabbath school. This work he had been doing for the past two years and besides was active in the Fraternity Sabbath school work.

Gilbert was possessed of a sweet tenor voice and was a member of the Glee club and sang solos quite frequently. He was very popular both with the faculty and fellow students and his death has caused profound sorrow. He was of a kind, genial disposition and won hosts of friends wherever he went.

In a letter to his father Mr. Frank V. Slack, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., U. of P., speaks of him as follows:

In the name of the Christian Association of the University I want to express to you and Mrs. Wood our most sincere sympathy with both of you in the departure of your son and our friend Gilbert. Personally I have grown into very close touch with him this year, through his singing at our services and through his work in our Inter-Fraternity Bible Study Department and I have increasingly found to be true what you have been sure of all these years—that he was a clean-hearted, Christian gentleman, whom it has been an honor and a privilege to know. If a parent's greatest joy is found in the successful life of his son, then your joy must remain full, for Gilbert was truly successful in his life, with the success that can come only from personal association with Jesus Christ. His influence has been conscientiously used to affect the character of his fellow-students and I am very sure there are many men here who will be grateful to him always for having helped them to a better life than they would have attained without him.

He is survived by his father and mother and the following brothers and one sister, J. Perry, of Pasadena, California; John Allen, Earl C., Melvin S., and Alice Marguerite of Bellefonte.

The funeral took place on Saturday at 2 o'clock from the Methodist Episcopal parsonage on East Linn street. There was a large attendance of friends and relatives anxious to pay a last tribute of respect to this noble-hearted young man who was called away just at the threshold of life. The services were conducted by Rev. H. R. Bender D. D., pastor of the Methodist church at Lock Haven who preached an eloquent and touching sermon. He was assisted by Rev. Piper, of Milesburg. At the grave Dr. Laurie, Rev. Schmidt and Rev. Royer took part in the services.

The floral tributes received were extremely beautiful. A large number were received from the different fraternities and class-mates at the University of Pennsylvania. The floral tributes were in charge of Jas. H. Rine, Fred Rees and John Kramer.

The casket-bearers were Dr. H. W. Tate, J. O. Brewer, Morton Smith, Hugh Crider, George R. Meek, Dr. J. E. Ward, Dr. A. W. Hafer, Dr. Kilpatrick, C. C. Shuey, J. P. Smith and John Allen Wood.

Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler have arrived home from their trip abroad, they were delayed in Philadelphia several weeks owing to an accident to Mrs. Spangler. In alighting from a street car she made a misstep and sprained one of the ligaments in her ankle which proved very painful, and since then she is able only to move about with the use of crutches. They had a fine trip and the Col, certainly enjoyed it from the interesting accounts he gives. He and Mrs. Spangler came home more thoroughly impressed that this is the place of all countries in which to live.
